

December 28, 2025: On the Unstoppable Nature of the Demon Inside Donald

World, I have alerted you in every way that I can.

I have tested every legal option available to hold these criminals accountable to the rule of law and I am determining - as many of our political representatives already know - that nothing can be done to stop the demon that is locked inside of Donald.

I am alerting everyone to keep their distance and to protect themselves as we are watching the downfall of America and of a giant criminal conspiracy as it identifies itself with Satan in all forms.

I am expressing the need for unity, and we all understand that every person must remain responsible for protecting themselves as we watch the end of his criminal empire destroy itself.

I honestly do not know how far they will go, but I can firmly tell you that nobody is prepared to stop the United States military right now.

Yes, Donald, you are an unstoppable monster that will never retreat. You have proven it to our home.

Now what? Are you proud of this? I am certainly not impressed.
